CAREER AND PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Management/Supervisory Development Department offers a comprehensive, experiential program designed for students and professionals to increase their supervisory, management, and leadership skills. Interacting with instructors who are currently managers or consultants, participants develop cutting-edge business practices that prepare them for job acquisition, retention, and advancement in managerial and supervisory careers. Graduates are prepared to perform functions such as self-management, goal setting, time management, workplace interpersonal communication, conflict resolution, leading and motivating teams, effective customer service, transformational leadership, continuous improvement, supply chain management, and project management.

AAS Degree graduates transfer to Oregon Institute of Technology, George Fox College, and Warner Pacific College, among others. For more information about transfer programs, contact the four-year universities as early as possible to ensure a smooth transition.

Management/Supervisory Development courses are offered in a variety of formats, which include distance learning, evening classes on campus, half-day classes of Fridays, and half-day and full-day Saturday classes. The entire degree can be completed online. Consult a program advisor regarding PCC credit for on-the-job projects (Co-op Ed), or formal training at non-accredited institutions.
